

Your responses suggest that you are within the timeframe when a claim may be lodged.

60 When to claim

A claim for parental leave pay must be made in the period that:

- (a) starts on the day that is 97 days before the expected date of birth of the child; and
- (b) ends on the day before the child's first birthday.