

Your responses suggest that you can take whatever is left from your 5 days legislative limit, but you may take additional days with the agreement of your employer.

106A Entitlement to unpaid family and domestic violence leave

- (1) An employee is entitled to 5 days of unpaid family and domestic violence leave in a 12 month period.
- (4) The employee may take unpaid family and domestic violence leave as:
 - (a) a single continuous 5 day period; or
 - (b) separate periods of one or more days each; or
 - (c) any separate periods to which the employee and the employer agree, including periods of less than one day.
- (5) To avoid doubt, this section does not prevent the employee and the employer agreeing that the employee may take more than 5 days of unpaid leave to deal with the impact of family and domestic violence.
